

POWER OF PEOPLE

J. C. SHERER SAYS VOTERS OF CALIFORNIA ARE QUITE INDEPENDENT

This is a bit of California history, a plea for partisanship, and a few reflections upon the question of ethics in politics. A pretty large topic which might be spread out over a page or more of The News and still keep closely to the text, but must necessarily be condensed, leaving the matter for the intelligent reader to digest the facts cited, and to accept or reject the conclusions arrived at by the writer. There is no questioning the fact that for many years the Southern Pacific Railroad, through certain representatives working more or less quietly, did from time to time dominate the politics of the State of California, and for the railroad company's activity there always was the excuse that it had to be in politics for self defense against a certain class of legislators and other public officials who were always ready to practice blackmail, in the Legislature by the introduction of "Cinch bills," measures not intended to be enacted and enforced but merely to make the railroad "come through." A Los Angeles paper of considerable influence as an organ of the Progressive party, has published from time to time editorial articles to the effect in implication, if not in direct claim, that there never was any virtue in politics in California until the present regime came into being and the direct primary did away with the party convention, thus giving "the people" power. To one familiar with the facts of our political history, this claim is rank nonsense, but so many of our people are comparatively newcomers that it is accepted as true by many. The writer of this article makes the broad claim that there never has been a time in California when the people did not have full political power, and that whatever abuses of power there have been were simply possible because the people did not take the trouble to use the instruments they possessed for good government. To prove this contention, the following is related.

In 1898 Henry T. Gage was Governor of California. He had been elected as a Republican and there was a Republican Legislature with that party, having a majority by a narrow margin. A United States Senator was to be elected to succeed Stephen M. White. The railroad forces had backed Gage for Governor and he had proved appreciative. Dan Burns was a well known railroad politician who had fought many a fight for that political organization, and was a candidate for Senator, backed by all the influences that the "organization" could bring to bear. The Burns forces were strong enough to secure almost enough votes to elect him, lacking, I believe, less than half a dozen. The struggle continued all through the session, the Governor using all the strength of his position to assist Burns. It was notorious that large sums of money or choice positions could be obtained for Burns votes and it is probable that a few transactions of this nature took place. But the regular session passed and adjourned without a choice being made.

A short time after adjournment a call was made for a special session for the purpose of electing a Senator. It was asserted that the Governor had only issued the call after being given assurance that sufficient Legislators had been "converted" in regard to the election of Burns and were ready to vote for him. The extra session was a repetition of the regular, the reputation of Burns was so bad that it was impossible to elect him, all the influences of the railroad organization being exerted in vain. The deadlock was finally broken by the election of Thomas R. Bard of Ventura, he being an old-time Republican war horse, the election going to him without a single promise on his part or even without an effort made by him personally. Never in the history of California, not even excepting recent chapters, has the State been more worthily represented in the United States Senate, nor by a gentleman so thoroughly honorable and independent of a political organization.

As showing further the independence of the voters, may be mentioned the turning down of Gov. Gage when he sought to be renominated, backed by railroad influence. He was defeated for renomination by a revolt of members within his party and George C. Pardee succeeded him.

Again, and the last instance. About 1906 the Lincoln-Roosevelt league was formed, another organization within the Republican party, brought into being to meet the necessities of

PULLING TOGETHER

J. F. LILLY STRONGLY URGES SUPPORT OF ALL LOCAL INSTITUTIONS

Editor Glendale Evening News: Responding to your request for something of timely interest, I will set forth briefly what I consider one of the greatest needs of Glendale.

One of our very greatest needs here is what is sometimes termed "team work," which is too much of a tendency here to pull askew. That earnest co-operation that is often found in older communities is not in evidence here. True, we are progressing. Our growth has been almost phenomenal in the past five years. With our special advantages we ought to continue to grow rapidly, even through times of more or less depression.

There are many ways of pulling together, each contributing its share to the general prosperity. I will mention some of them.

A much broader support should be given to our local papers. For five dollars per year, a family can have both of the local papers, one weekly and the other daily. These papers are improving in their service to the community. They are becoming more newsy, more progressive, and better fields for publicity. But their subscription lists should be at least doubled in order that they may properly serve us. These papers are continually sounding the praises of Glendale. They afford the means by which any citizen, without cost, may present any helpful suggestions to a large number of our people. If they reached double the number of people this helpful influence would be proportionately increased. Advertisers would have a larger field to work in, and our editors could still further improve the scope and influence of their journals. Newspapers are perhaps the largest factors in developing home pride and the spirit of local co-operation. The amount of free advertising they give to their home communities would cost fabulous sums, were the space charged for at fair rates. Let us co-operate more generously with these, our most efficient boosters.

There is entirely too much of a tendency to run over to Los Angeles for every little service and every commodity by a considerable number of our people. I happen to know of a local man who runs a small dairy, and furnishes milk that is never skimmed, and from Jersey cows—the richest milk that can be had. He has been unable to secure enough customers to take all of his product, and yet there are many people who patronize a Los Angeles concern that furnishes a product not nearly so good as that of the local man. This is a sample of what is happening in many similar cases.

The banking institutions of a community are a fine index of the standing of that community. Home-seekers size up a place in many ways, but the size of the local banks is often a determining feature. There are hundreds of Glendale citizens who carry their checking accounts in the banks of Los Angeles, and never look into our local banks except when they want a check cashed or change for a five. They could have just as good service here, and their money, deposited at home, would swell the local deposits, make money easier to obtain for local upbuilding, and the banking profits from this money would be kept right where it would do the most good. People do not think about these things in a business way. Their little $500 or $1000 deposited in the big institutions of Los Angeles is just a drop in the bucket there, and creates an exceedingly slight bond between the officers of the big bank and the depositor. That sum left with Mr. Lee or Mr. Vesper and their genial associates is an item that attracts their attention to your frugality, and gives you a much better bank standing, relatively speaking. Keep your funds at home, and thereby stimulate your own community. Those big city banks will never notice the difference.

As a matter of local pride, and as a means to larger local growth, our patronage should be given more largely to those citizens whose business represents a large local investment. Recently one of our leading citizens built a refrigerating plant at a cost of perhaps $40,000. This plant furnishes employment to a considerable number of our local people, and indirectly adds much to the business of our city. This institution should receive more generous support for the very reason that it is helping to put your town on the map, and the profits of the business are kept at home instead of being distributed among a bunch of stock-

The troops have been refreshed by a few days' rest. The losses have been made up and Gen. Brusiloff has a completely renovated army with which to operate in that region. The town of Duta has been captured and the army has now reached the sources of the Bistrizta and Nadzorna rivers.

CRISIS ARRIVES IN RAILROAD DISPUTE

RAILWAY MANAGERS MAKE DEMANDS AND BROTHERHOODS GROW IMPATIENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 26.—A sudden crisis in the negotiations between the Railroad managers and the Brotherhoods arrived this afternoon, which may result in the breaking off of negotiations between the two parties. Some of the Brotherhood committee have gone home indignant. The managers talk of the interruption of industrial activity by the threatened strike and the Brotherhoods point to what they call the unreliability of the officials of the roads.

W. C. T. U. BRANCH CLOSES A HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL SERIES OF MEETINGS

With a beautiful service of song and dramatic representation the Y. P. B. convention came to a close Friday night. The feature of the evening was the speech of Miss Margaret Cocke, who gave an interesting talk on a study course. She showed how lessons might be made interesting. A cantata, "The Burden of the Flag," was symbolical and impressive. A band of young people, each representing a State, told of the progress of Prohibition in their separate territories. A group of young girls sang a temperance song and a group of children gave some unique yells and songs.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Miss Allita Williams, Long Beach, president; Mr. De Forest Pierce, Redlands, vice-president; Miss Grace Herrington, Long Beach, corresponding secretary; Miss Vivian Engle, 340 W. Fifth street, Glendale, recording secretary; Mr. Will Richards, 117 Adams street, Glendale, treasurer. Redlands invited the convention to meet in that city.

EXTRACTIONS OF AN ADDRESS DELIVERED BY EDWIN F. HAHN, CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS IN THE NINTH DISTRICT

"I feel some degree of embarrassment, and have ever since I have been in this campaign, because of the necessity of using the first person pronoun, which seems so necessary when one is campaigning for himself. Ever since I left college in 1898 I have been active in politics one way or another for someone else. I have always enjoyed the active part I have taken.

"It is needless to say that I am a firm believer in the Republican party and am a candidate of the Republican party and for the Republican party only. I inherited it from my father, who spent three and one-half years in the Civil War, and has been and still is, a firm believer in the Republican party. My belief in the Republican party has been established and grounded upon my own understanding and knowledge of what the Republican party has done. I do not think it is necessary for me to take up much time in the history of the Republican party but the fact that every time the Democratic party has been in control of our national administration, there has been distress come upon the people and the people have very eagerly returned to the Republican administration. They, somehow, gather that degree of intelligence and ability that has better solved the problems that the people have had to solve than has been done by the Democratic party. For that reason, I believe that the people will return the Republican party to power in the coming election, and that Hughes and Fairbanks will be the President and the Vice-President for the next four years. Believing as I do in the Republican party, and what it has stood for and what it has accomplished, I have no words of criticism against Mr. Wilson or his administration. I have been taught from early youth to have a certain degree of respect for the man, no matter what party he is from, who has come to occupy the highest position of this great people, and I hope that the time will never come when I shall forget that drilling that was given me.

"I want to say to you that the older I grow the less I become enthused with the candidate for office, especially an office in Congress, who is ready to tell you before he ever goes there what he is going to do on every question that arises, but I would like to make as definite as possible, this fact and principle, that I believe it is the duty of our people and the duty of the Republican party, to put humanity above the commercial dollar.

"I am a firm believer in the tariff. I believe in the tariff because I believe it is in the interests of the people of California, and Southern California—that is, the protective tariff as I interpret it. That the man and woman engaged in the raising, producing and manufacturing have a wage that will enable him or her to live in a fair degree of decency. In that connection, I want to say this, that it is inconceivable to me how any man or woman could support a measure requiring children from the ages of 8 to 12 years to labor fourteen hours a day, thus destroying their minds and bodies. I want to say that if I ever become a member of Congress, which I hope to, that I should use every ounce of strength that lies within me to see that there is a law that should place a severe penalty upon that regard of humanity, because of the disregard of what ought to be in the hearts of men, and not require any law upon our statute books.

"Probably the question more than any other that is asked of a candidate for Congress is his attitude on preparedness. I would say that I am a firm believer in protecting ourselves. I believe in police protection. I believe that this nation, just as a community, as a city, should be protected. That a city should have policemen to protect the citizens from the encroachment, from those who attempt to take advantage of them, and to that extent, I believe in what ever is required to properly protect us from outside enemies should be done. I should say in connection with this question that there should be made a most strenuous effort to establish some form of international arbitration that may be enacted and that the question of war might be forever done away with.

"I have been asked a number of times, 'What is your attitude on the so-called pork barrel?' We all have our defined idea as to what the pork barrel means. If you are entitled to it, and if conditions warrant it, I tell you, I will do all in my power to aid you in what I think, and what the people feel would be right, but to promise you, I could not do it. It is hardly possible to accomplish anything in doing away with the pork barrel unless the constituents help by making demands reasonable.

"As for National Woman's Suffrage, I have always stood firmly on the belief that they should receive an equal right in the civil affairs of their community by having the power to vote.

"To say something of myself: I have been a resident of California for twenty-nine years. I have practiced law for seventeen years. I graduated from Pomona College, working my way through college. I have been engaged in various activities outside of my profession. For six years I was president of the Long Beach Water Company. I have been connected with several banks. For ten years I have been a grower of citrus and deciduous fruits. I believe that in some respects that my extensive interest in farming would, in a measure, probably fit me to serve the different interests in this community. I was a carpenter and something of a mechanic. It was with the aid of that trade that I made my way through college. I have a great deal of sympathy for a man working to get on his feet; I have never had any silver spoon in my mouth, and what I have, I have had to earn.

"I endeavor to give a definite reason for anything I attempt to do. Nobody ever charged me with being afraid to stand up and do the thing I thought was right. I shall go to Washington with the expectation that that ideal will prevail in the minds of the machinery of the people."

(POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS)

McNUTT APPEALS TO HOME PEOPLE

Glendale, August 22, 1916. A letter from Mr. McNutt, our next Assemblyman, to the home people:

I have not been making a personal canvass at home, but have so far been giving all my spare time to the district outside. But I am now writing this as a personal letter to each of you asking your support next Tuesday.

It is 13 years since I came to the vicinity of Glendale, and of course most of you know me or know of me and my record has recently been published in your newspapers. My campaign is educational merely, and has been conducted by myself with no hired orator from Los Angeles and no life and drum corps. Now that nominating conventions have been done away with, it is a matter with the individual voter to select the best qualified candidate as he may see fit.

As one "up from slavery"—the slavery of inequality and hard surroundings—what little I have accomplished has been only by toil. But it is work that really wins after all, and I have not been found wanting in the labors undertaken. No one will question my qualifications for the Assembly.

The lady voters will remember that five years ago I gave three months of my time in aiding them to secure the ballot. This was not on account of what I thought they would do, but because I believed in their equal rights to men. The principle of allowing equal rights to all is part of my nature and as a legislator this would be the foundation upon which I would build. Two sessions of the legislature have come and gone since women were given the franchise, yet there still remains on our statute books all of those gross inequalities in rights between men and women. Either you do not send men to the legislature in sympathy with the rule of equal rights to all, or else they haven't the ability to enact such laws.

Only those registered as Republicans can vote for me next Tuesday. I have always been a Republican, but am very progressive in my ideas. In asking your ballot you are to consider the best interests of all the people of the district and not mine alone. It is a matter of having the offices filled with the most capable and efficient servants of the people.

My candidacy is received favorably all over the district and with a solid vote from you there will be no doubt in the count. The district has never been represented in the legislature by any one west of Highland Park and Pasadena. Now let us, for once have it put into the books that Glendale has a man in the State Assembly. I shall appreciate very greatly a solid, united vote from Glendale and vicinity.

Very sincerely,
PORTER S. McNUTT.

WICKLIFFE MATTHEWS

SOLID, ACTIVE BUSINESS MAN FOR ASSEMBLY, SIXTY-FIRST DISTRICT

Wickliffe Matthews is well known in this city, being for ten years the president of the firm of Matthews & Matthews, Inc. With his son, Stanley Matthews, he organized this company and opened offices in the Douglas building in 1906, and in 1915 moved to their present offices in the Washington building. Mr. Matthews for the past eight years has financed the building of apartment houses, stores and business buildings, moving picture shows, garages, bungalow courts and bungalows, more than two thousand in number, in and around Los Angeles, in this way not only giving employment to thousands of people, but greatly increasing the immigration from eastern cities to this city.

Mr. Matthews is 60 years of age. He is a native of Ohio and has been in our state for thirty-four years. He is a strong, clean, moral man, with high ideals for the future of our government. He is well educated, having taught in the public schools of Ohio for seven years. He studied law in odd times while teaching school, and was admitted to the bar in 1879. In his experience as an attorney in the city of San Francisco, covering a period of more than twenty-five years, Mr. Matthews made a thorough study of the laws of the State, those effectual and those ineffectual, and has found that the latter surpass the former by a vast majority. He was persuaded by prominent Republicans to become a candidate for the nomination of assemblyman in the Sixty-first district in order that he may have a voice in the making of the laws by which we are compelled to abide. Fewer and better laws and based on this point is lower taxation.

Due to his kindly consideration for all people, no matter of what color or race, Mr. Matthews is very popular in his business life. His election will mean another point, and a noticeable one, in favor of California dry, and so all who favor equality, temperance and clean government will do well to vote for Mr. Matthews at the primary election on August 29.

Mr. Matthews' candidacy has been endorsed by the Sixty-first Assembly District Republican Club, the Clean Government League of California and the California branch of the International White Cross Society.

The Wickliffe Matthews campaign committee headquarters are located at 510-11 San Fernando building, with Dr. George Hargrave MacNeill in charge.—Adv.

WISHARD'S SUPPORTERS

Assemblyman Harry A. Wishard, who has just returned from the U. S. Army Training Camp at Monterey, has been making a strong campaign for his re-election to the assembly on the Republican ticket, and according to his many friends should win out at the primaries. Wishard was author of the Mother's Pension Bill, and one of the hardest fighters for worthy legislation in the last legislature. He knows our district thoroughly, and has met personally over half the voters of it. Wishard is a pleasing young chap, a forceful speaker and a good fighter. Let's send him back.

Like your work if you can—I don't know what yours is, so I am unable to judge, but like it if you can. And if you can't like it, keep sweet, anyway, hold the attitude that the best is coming to you and work for its realization. The attitude will help you; you will have the law of attraction working with you and for you.

*THE WORTH OF REAL WORK

"It is not so much what work thou doest," said Thomas Carlyle, "as the spirit in which thou doest thy work, that alone will have strength and endurance." Work is what gives life significance. A man's work shows forth his religion better than any profession of faith that is too often mere sound signifying nothing. Work is a thing to be carefully and nobly done and when thus done it brings its own reward. Life is hard to live. It is a thing to be stored up and carefully used. The strength that enables us to do our daily work is not to be wasted.

How often have you seen a pair of fine young horses about to set out on a journey. How gracefully they step! Their arched necks, their small heads, their broad chests, strong shoulders, clean-cut legs betoken speed, strength and endurance. One longs to throw loose the reins and let the noble animals stretch forth in one long wild gallop. The horses feel the excitement. They champ the bits, toss their heads, paw the ground. They are off! The road is open and they bound along in all the exuberance of young life. But a wary hand is on the reins; their pace is checked; they fret and chafe and seek to break away; but that steady grasp never relaxes. Speedily they are forced into a steady swinging trot and as the miles fly past they settle down to their work. Their own unbridled pace would have led to sudden disaster or a sudden breakdown.

Such is the case of youth. Who has not felt the mad promptings of vigorous youth and life? When life looks out of the clear young eye, when a word, a look, a thought, is enough to make the pulse throb madly and the heart beat wildly, then is the time when words of advice seem solemn mockery. The youthful soul within is ever crying out, "Let hence; let me try the untried. I would float away from care like a vapor from the valley; I would go with the winds under the sky like liberty."

But the hand of one stronger than ourselves is on the reins. Dread of starvation; fear of disgrace; wife, family, home, friends—all open up a long vista before us and we speedily settle down to the philosophy of life resolves itself into a philosophy of work and in that middle way men can often find salvation when shipwreck and disaster might otherwise be their lot.

There is an honest and manly ring in the words of the old apostle who thanked God that he had labored working with his own hands and advised those who had turned from the worship of idols to the worship of the only living and true God to work thus also. "Ora et labora"—pray and work—the old monks used to carve on the stone lintels of their monasteries. "To work is to play" they added in expansion of the truth and it is very true that those who commit crime are seldom found in the ranks of those who are keeping their minds occupied with work of any kind. In the everyday work of this work-a-day world is the truest peace.

PACKER'S TRIUMPH OVER CHARACTER ASSASSIN

THOROUGH INVESTIGATION BRINGS OUT FACT THAT CANDIDATE PACKER IS GENTLEMAN OF INTEGRITY AND ABILITY TO FILL THE OFFICE OF SUPERVISOR

Editor of the Glendale News.

Dear Sir:—John T. Wilson, Supervisorial candidate in the Fifth District, and his hirelings have ignominiously failed in their efforts to find material with which to assassinate the character of Stephen C. Packer of Glendale, just as their efforts failed to destroy the character of George W. Ball of San Fernando, and which attempt resulted in a unanimous verdict of the jury in awarding Mr. Waite $2000 damages. For details, reference is hereby made to the records of the Superior Court of Los Angeles Co.

Several evenings ago at the Masonic Temple, Wilson, in referring to Mr. Waite's libel suit, stated that the same had been appealed. It is barely possible that the judgment of the lower court may be reversed by the Supreme Court, but the State of California upon a technicality. Be this as it may, Mr. Wilson, can never erase from the minds of the 42 jurors who brought in the verdict, that he was absolutely guilty as charged, no more than he can erase from the minds of the voters of Glendale the fact that he has made an attempt to destroy Mr. Packer's character, and has failed.

For some time past, Mr. Packer's intimate associates have known that a person signing herself L. B. Heyde, whose address is 912 W. Colorado Blvd., Glendale, has been going around with a more or less mysterious air, referring to a letter she had received from the Mayor of the City of Menominee, in the State of Michigan, dealing with the character of Mr. Packer. With a desire to unveil the mystery Mr. Packer's friends communicated with the Mayor and the Mayor, in a letter to Mr. Packer, has informed him that the woman, and for the benefit of Mr. Packer's friends and for the citizens who believe absolutely in the square deal, we publish herewith, which Wilson was afraid to publish in full, together with his letter of retraction and other matter of interest which relate to an attempt of Mr. Wilson to tear down the character of Mr. Packer.

"Glendale, Cal., July 25, 1916.

To the Honorable Mayor, Menominee, Mich.

Dear Sir:—I am consistent with your office to give me the record of one Stephen C. Packer, formerly Sheriff of your county, and holder of other important offices in the city of Menominee some years prior to 1907. I have found it of information, will you kindly refer to those who might. It is of utmost importance and will be greatly appreciated by yours truly.

Very truly,
(Signed) L. B. HEYDE,
912 W. Colorado Blvd.

P. S. An immediate reply will be appreciated.

"Menominee, Mich., Aug. 2, 1916.

Mr. L. B. Heyde, 912 W. Colorado Blvd., Glendale, Cal.

Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of your letter of July 25th, making inquiry in regard to Stephen C. Packer, formerly Sheriff of Menominee county. I do not know the gentleman in question, this being before my time in Menominee, but I have made inquiry and am informed that he was Sheriff for a period of two years. It seems that he was defeated for two years, running again for Sheriff but was defeated. Drank very heavily while he was Sheriff, but apparently quit drinking after he was defeated. Am informed that he had a coal yard here as a business, but was not considered a successful business man here, but as a fair reputation. At one time, I am informed, he was also deputy treasurer. At no time was he treasurer. Cannot find that he held any other public office except that of Sheriff for two years.

Most respectfully yours,
M. B. LLOYD, Mayor.

Evidently Mayor Lloyd, after writing the letter, sought additional information with reference to Mr. Packer's character and on the 19th inst., addressed a letter to L. B. Heyde, retracting his former statements. We quote from said letter:

Dear Sir:—Referring to my communication of the 2nd inst., addressed to you in regard to Mr. Stephen C. Packer, formerly Sheriff of Menominee county, as stated in my letter of August 2, I do not know the gentleman in question but simply made inquiry from one person who gave me the information which I wrote you. My attention has been called to the statements made. I have found it necessary to make a thorough investigation. I find that the information I received at the time of writing you was not the fact and misrepresented Mr. Packer. I am serving my second term as Mayor of this city. I am president of the Auto Welding Company of this city. Mr. Packer held the position of city treasurer of this city during the years of 1895 and 1896. Was appointed treasurer during the years 1892, 1893, 1897 and 1898, the city charter making it impossible for the same person to hold the office of deputy oil inspector for two years in succession. He was elected Sheriff of the past twenty-five years, and on second term through treachery in the party. This was the only time he was ever defeated in running for public office in this State or county. His personal habits, I find, were good, and while he was in the coal business here and the same did not prove as successful as it might have, the fault was due to an unfortunate partnership arrangement, and not the lack of business ability on Mr. Packer's part.

Trusting that this information may correct any wrong impression given by my former letter, and which I now desire to advise you correctly upon, I am most respectfully yours,
M. B. LLOYD.

Again we desire to quote from a letter addressed to Mr. L. B. Heyde, 912 West Colorado boulevard, as follows:

"Menominee, Mich., Aug. 19, 1916.

Dear Sir:—

Information has just reached this office that you are interested in being informed as to Stephen C. Packer, former Sheriff of this county, and presuming that you are desirous of having definite advice in connection with this gentleman's record, I am taking the liberty to address you in connection therewith. The writer has known Mr. Packer for the past twenty-five years, and with the writer has known Mr. Packer for the past twenty-five years, and also defeated for Sheriff. Mr. Packer first took a part in politics in this community when he was appointed as Deputy City Treasurer. Was deputy for two years and then was elected City Treasurer for two years. Menominee city very seldom elects a Republican City Treasurer, but Mr. Packer had little difficulty in being elected both times he ran. He then held the office of deputy oil inspector. Afterwards was elected Sheriff and then at an election for second term was defeated through treachery in the party, and I say this knowing whereof I speak. As a man, Steve Packer was always honorable, true and clean as a hound's tooth, the kind of a citizen that is a credit to any community, and one whom any community may elect to represent them without fear of making a mistake in so doing.

The Menominee County Republican Committee sends greetings to the Committee of Glendale, California, and heartily indorses the candidacy of Mr. Stephen C. Packer.

Most respectfully yours, C. W. HUTCHINSON, Chairman Menominee County Central Committee.

Evidently Mr. Wilson's efforts were brought to the attention of Judge Stiles, Judge of the Probate Court of Menominee, who, under date of August 18, 1916, writes:

To Whom It May Concern:—I have known Stephen C. Packer for the past thirty-five years during which time I have always found him to be an upright and honest citizen and a good business man. When I first met him he was employed as book-keeper for the Chaffin Mining Company at Iron Mountain, then a part of this county, but now Chaffin Mining Company, Michigan. Later he served one term as Sheriff and was City Treasurer for the years 1895 and 1896. He also served as deputy oil inspector. He is of good moral character, and although he is of a different political party, we desire to say that apparently no stone has been left unturned by unscrupulous parties to find something upon which to found an attack upon Mr. Packer's character.

Very truly yours, JOHN M. STILES, Judge of Probate

Quoting from a personal letter to Mr. Packer:—

I see that you are out for Supervisor in your county. I know it will only be a question of your majority if the voters of your county could be informed of your fitness for the office. The writer, as you remember, was County Clerk and Registrar of Deeds at the same time you were Sheriff, and I have often heard the Board of Supervisors remark that the office of Sheriff under your supervision was economically and honestly taken care of.

(Signed) C. C. HANSON.

Larry Eicholz, editor of the San Fernando Democrat and chief speller for John T. Wilson, in his address in the Masonic Temple, Glendale, Thursday evening, August 17, 1916, during his tirade against Mr. Packer, made the statement that they had searched the State of Washington for any man who was prepared to state that Mr. Packer was at any time engaged in the lumber business in the State of Washington and could find no one. To refute Mr. Eicholz's unfounded and intentional misleading statement we herewith submit a card of the Grays Harbor Logging Company as prima-facie evidence of the truth of the statements of Mr. Packer's friends that he was legitimately engaged in the business as indicated.

Mr. Packer was instrumental in the reorganization of the Grays Harbor Logging Co., which was organized under the laws of the State of Washington with a paid up capital of $100,000 and during his connection therewith was at various times president and secretary and

In conclusion, we desire to say that apparently no stone has been left unturned by unscrupulous parties to find something upon which to found an attack upon Mr. Packer's character.

We submit the above correspondence and statements of fact dating back for a period of thirty-five years to the time when Mr. Packer was 15 or 16 years of age, and there is not one word or one line that can be construed by any fair-minded person as reflecting upon his character as a man or as a citizen. To the contrary the evidence submitted proves beyond question, the assertions made by Mr. Packer's thousands of friends, that he is, by reason of his business ability, honesty and integrity, unquestionably qualified to serve Los Angeles county as its Supervisor from the Fifth district and we are satisfied that Mr. Packer's friends in Glendale and elsewhere will give him an overwhelming majority at the primaries on August 29.

GLENDALE SANITARIUM ARRIVALS

Among the Angelenos who registered as patients at the Glendale Sanitarium this week were Charles R. Holmes, Frank Walker, D. C. Ferguson, R. E. Thompson and Miss Lydia Taylor.

From Hollywood came Miss Florence Thornton Hill and from the Ojai Valley Miss Marie Holsten.

Filmore, Cal., was represented by Dr. G. H. Harvey and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dean. The latter were accompanied by their child.

Other patients included Robert E. Liggett of Pomona and N. E. Mock of Ontario.

Nor was the list of patients and guests confined entirely to Californians. For witness the fact that Mrs. Irving Bartholomew and child came all the way from Honolulu, indicating that the fame of the local institution has not alone hurdled State boundary lines but has spanned the sea itself.

COUNTY CERTIFICATE AWARDED MRS. WEBB

Mrs. Vivian R. Webb of 1112 West Seventh street has recently been awarded a certificate by the California State Board of Education and the county superintendent of schools, which entitles her to teach piano, harmony and musical appreciation in the high schools of Los Angeles county.

Mrs. Webb, however, does not contemplate entering upon work of this kind at the present time. She feels herself to be particularly adapted to giving private instruction and is very happy in her chosen work.

OLD FOLKS' PICNIC

All the plans for the Jolly Old Folks' picnic are completed and there is every prospect of from 2000 to 2500 this year. Last year there were over 1200 and it grows yearly. It will be held in Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, Saturday, September 2, all day, with basket dinner at noon. Coffee, cream and sugar will be provided free for all, but bring cup, spoon and big dinners so you can invite a friend who has none. It has been suggested that all who have autos should bring the people from their section. As this is for people over 70 it will be hard for many of them to attend unless taken by machine and by a little effort all may be carried quickly and easily to the park.

If drivers cannot stay and enjoy the day with their loads they can get them toward night. It is one of the best and most enjoyable of all the best and most enjoyable of all the many picnics and as there are so many of these dear old folks in our Southland every effort should be made to help them enjoy it.

Many of them will not be here for the one next year. Help them to go to this one so the memory of it may brighten coming days.

the times. This organization did excellent work and the pioneers in the movement deserve great credit for what they accomplished, notwithstanding the apparently selfish motive that time developed in some. Gov. Johnson was not in at the birth of this movement. He had never at that time, as far as the public knew, been giving any of his undoubted talent for the advancement of the general welfare. The league used the old machinery, the caucus, the primary and the convention and threw the railroad out of power in California.

These instances might be multiplied to show that in times past, as now, the people of California have had in their hands all the political power of the State. These things were done under the old system and not under a direct primary law. The public officials of the State and county were fully as high-grade men as have been in office recently, endowed with as much patriotism and honesty. Californians have the right to resent the implications made from time to time in alleged progressive papers and in public addresses, that there was no virtue in the State until it was imported and nothing good in our political history until there was put upon the statute books a promiscuous lot of new laws, some of which cannot be untangled even by the lawyers who made them.

This leads to my second point. The present set of primary and other election laws, instead of making honest politics easier for office seekers, actually puts a premium upon dishonesty by affording a reward for sharp practice. No candidate for a nomination should be permitted to have his name upon more than one ticket; he is either a partisan or a nonpartisan, and there is no middle ground. Partisanship in State and national affairs is just as necessary as a division of Christianity into sect. Both have the sanction of the wisdom of generations. There are no statesmen who are not partisans, nor have there been any in the history of this republic, nor are there any looming above the horizon. The California law which permits an aspirant for office to pose as a "nonpartisan" and prove it by having his name on three or four party tickets, is an affront to the intelligence of the people and the candidate who avails himself of this means to get votes, should be taught by an intelligent electorate that "honesty is the best policy." This, of course, does not apply to local affairs where it is possible for the voters to know candidates personally or where there is no political principle involved.

This leads to my third and last point; is there a special rule of ethics in politics? In the campaign of four years ago a number of political aspirants, and successful ones too, signed their names to affidavits agreeing to do what they had no intention of doing, as the peculiar election law required before they could take out nomination papers, and they never squirmed audibly. In the campaign now on several candidates have their names on three or four party tickets. It would seem to anyone with old-fashioned views of right and wrong that this is no more logical or justifiable than to put one's name on the church roll of three or four religious denominations; but the thing seems right to a large number of well meaning people whose attitude is quite logical if they agree with the jesuitical theory that "the end justifies the means."

For several weeks the leading "reform" paper of Southern California advised people to register as "Republicans," not because they belonged to that party, but because by so doing they would be allowed to vote at the primary election next week for a candidate who does not pretend to be a Republican (and is even registered himself as a "Progressive," and who at the recent Chicago convention would not consent to agree to the nomination of Hughes—only coming out for him after the rush for the band wagon started. Our present Congressman, a candidate to succeed himself, is in the same class with the Governor. For political purposes he poses as a Democrat, Republican, Progressive and Prohibitionist. And yet a lot of good citizens will vote for these candidates, both of whom are sailing under false colors. To the man up a tree it looks greatly like a case of getting votes under false pretenses, but from his elevated position he may see things crookedly. I wonder if he does. Which is right, the man in the tree or the one with his ear to the ground? In the words of Hashimura Toga, "I ask for you know." J. C. SHERER.

McNUTT FOR THE ASSEMBLY

Porter S. McNutt, Republican candidate for Assembly in the Sixty-first District, is entitled to the solid party vote at the primary. He is qualified in every particular to represent his constituents in the lower house of the Legislature.

Mr. McNutt is a lawyer of ability. His office is in the San Fernando Building and his residence is in Glendale. He is well and favorably known to the officials and employees at the county buildings, and while the civil service rules prohibit them from playing politics, many of them are quite outspoken in their praise of the capabilities of the candidate.

Having graduated with four college degrees, his general education is of the best. He began life as a poor youngster and his success in life is due to his own ability and hard work. He has lived in his district for thirteen years and knows the needs of the people. His reputation is without a blemish and the voters of the Sixty-first District will make no mistake in sending Mr. McNutt to Sacramento.

—Los Angeles Review.

Porter S. McNutt is making a strong race for the nomination for Assemblyman in the Sixty-first District. He is meeting with much encouragement, and indications point to his success.

Few men are better qualified for the office of Assemblyman than is Mr. McNutt. He is a man of the strictest integrity, possesses qualities that peculiarly fit him for the place, is entirely familiar with the urgent needs of the common people, and is under no obligations to any one man or clique. He is a firm believer in cutting down useless expense and putting a curb on high taxation. His campaign has been one of education, and he is striving to bring before the voters the need for better laws for the taxpayers of California.

Mr. McNutt is assured of a very heavy vote all over the district.

—San Fernando Valley Press.

We have been publishing the cut of Porter S. McNutt, candidate for Assemblyman in the 61st District on the Republican ticket. He is highly qualified for the office, having four college degrees, and a successful career.

In early life he worked in the coal mines in Pennsylvania, was raised on a farm and also worked at carpentering. Was born in a log house, one of 12 children in the family. His advancement is out of his own hard work, and he would be kindly disposed to all laboring classes. He knows the needs of the district and is capable of getting the things the people need. He favors fewer and better considered laws and lower taxes.

The Legislature is the proper place to begin all these reforms.

Mr. McNutt resides at Glendale, with law offices in the San Fernando Building, Los Angeles. He is confident, basing his confidence upon widespread assurances of support.

—The Citizen.

The foregoing are a few of the many kindly comments from those who know me. The voters select their servant from what they can reasonably expect from his qualification to render good service. If you select me next Tuesday I will not disappoint you.

Sincerely,

PORTER S. McNUTT.

The same may be said of the finely equipped laundry which has been built up in our own community at large expense, affording employment to our own people and thereby contributing to our prosperity. This institution should certainly be given the preference over outside institutions that do not have any direct interest in our growth.

The shops and stores of Glendale are becoming more metropolitan, and you can get almost every necessity as cheap or cheaper here than in Los Angeles. Certainly if the shopper's time is worth anything, it is cheaper to trade at home. Why not surprise the merchants the next time you need anything in their lines by buying right here at home. I know of many people who have discovered that they could really save money by buying many products in Glendale that heretofore they have ordered from the city. Your support to these merchants would enable them to keep larger stocks, which in turn would create a better impression upon those hunting a place to locate—the net result being a larger and more prosperous Glendale.

income very materially if they moved to the city and charged city prices for their service. Now the next time little Willie gets a pain in his "tummy" call in one of these local physicians, instead of sending him to town to consult "Doctor Somebody with a Big Reputation." You will not only save money but considerable wear and tear on Willie—besides helping your own community.

We have some excellent local hospitals that afford facilities equal for most purposes to those of the city. Why not give these the preference, and thereby foster home institutions? I could go on indefinitely with illustrations of this kind. We ought to think of these things in a sensible, business-like way. By pulling together we can build here a city that will make us prouder than ever of the fact that we chose Glendale for our home, and can incidentally enhance the value of our local property. Both from the standpoint of sentiment and of dollars and cents, this kind of co-operation pays big dividends.

LEAGUE OF MUNICIPALITIES

At the session of the League of California Municipalities at Visalia, October 10, a report of City Managers is to be discussed. All the municipalities of the State are interested in knowing how the City Manager scheme of government is working out. A number of well-known City Managers are to speak. W. E. Evans, City Attorney of Glendale, is a member of the Judiciary Committee, and T. W. Watson, City Manager of Glendale, has been invited to attend.

A HUMBLE START

Innumerable writers, artists in all lines, professional and scientific people have started out in humble vocations, working by day at earning their bread and developing themselves by night for the bigger things they wished to do—and which they did do eventually.

But evil is wrought by want of thought As well as want of heart.—Hood.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

PORTER S. McNUTT

SOME FACTS ABOUT HIM AND HIS CANDIDACY

Being a home candidate, having lived in the vicinity of Glendale for thirteen years, many of our readers know this candidate personally and need no statement of facts about him. But on account of so many new people in the valley within the past eight years we furnish the following brief statement:

It will be noted that the equipment of Mr. McNutt is somewhat different from that of most candidates for office. He is in the prime of his life, with a past education and experience which particularly fits him for the Legislature.

GENERAL EDUCATION

He has graduated in college and university four times, receiving the degrees, B. E. State Normal College of Edinboro, Pa.; A. B., Drake University; A. M., Des Moines College;
L.L.B., Iowa College of Law, Des Moines. These are all degrees earned by examination on work actually done. None of them were gift or compliment degrees. He holds a life diploma, good to teach in all public schools of Pennsylvania without examination. He taught two years at Fresno, upon the good work of which he was granted a State diploma by the California State Board of Education; was principal of the high school
one year at Paulina, Iowa; was one year professor in the College of Letters in Drake University, and was professor of law in his alma mater for nine years, during all of which time he was secretary and general manager of the school, and it was during this period that it became one of the largest law schools in the United States. During said time he conducted seven special summer term schools of law. A number of the leading lawyers in Los Angeles graduated at this school while he taught there. Some of them are W.
M. Bowen, county chairman of Republican Committee; R. O. Brennan of the Santa Fe Railway offices; H.
C. Millsap and E. E. Crandall.

He has been admitted by the Supreme Courts to practice law in the courts of Iowa, Nebraska and California, also the Federal Court, in all of which he has had successful practice. He is also admitted to practice in the United States Commissioner of Patents Court. He took a special course in comparative constitutional law and sociology, under the direction of Dr. Stetson, Des Moines College, and Dr. Small of the Chicago University. For the past thirteen years he has resided near Glendale, having law offices in Los Angeles.

The candidate has other qualifications besides having been an educator and being a lawyer. He has practical ideas in a business way and has had successful business experience.
He has subdivided and sold out three acreage tracts in and near Glendale, and is a successful fruit raiser and farmer, with fruit ranches in Sycamore Canyon and near Burbank. He is also interested in irrigation projects, both in San Bernardino county,

this State, and in the State of Oregon, and has technical knowledge in all matters of irrigation, together with matters of handling water at time of floods. He was raised on a farm and has done every kind of farm work. He assisted his father in the carpenter trade and worked in the coal mines. Was born and raised in a log house, and never went to school but three months a year until after he was 18 years old, and after that time he educated himself from money earned by himself.

AS TO HIS MORAL FIBRE

His parents and grandparents were all church members, as has been his ancestry for 400 years back.
He belongs to a family of twelve children. He, with all his brothers and sisters, are church members. One brother, Mathew B. McNutt, is lecturer and organizer for the Home Mission Board Country Life Work of the Presbyterian Church and has long been a prominent minister. The candidate is a cousin of Hunter Corbett, who has been for fifty years the leading American missionary in China.

The Supreme Courts of three States and the Federal Court has it in their records that the candidate is a man of high moral character.

He is well versed in parliamentary law and can speak intelligently. His work in the law school required him to examine and study the laws of other States, as well as the English common law and the Roman civil law, which laws are the foundation of all modern law. All these things especially fit him for taking up the question of providing suitable laws for the people. There are so many things of great importance to do in the coming Legislature. There is a move to remodel entirely the civil practice in courts. There are matters of taxation, food water control, and many things of great importance, requiring someone of ability, education
and experience to handle.

He has conducted his own campaign, is not backed up by any class or corporate interest; has made no promises and is absolutely free to listen to the needs of any of the constituents of his district. He would not vote to repeal any good law for he has a fixed belief in the equal rights to all, and would work to get the very best laws possible for all of the district. He is a firm believer in equal rights to all, with special privileges to none. In his campaign he has made no noise; has brought in no orators from Los Angeles to speak for him; has had no rifle and drum corps. He has told the voters about his equipment and is leaving it to them to decide whom they wish to serve them. He will greatly appreciate a vote from you on the 29th of August.

(POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT)

MAN WITH GOOD RECORD

It is a candidate's past record and his popularity with his own people that count in the matter of securing votes. It was Mayor Dodge's popularity that secured for him by far the largest vote against a field of five highly esteemed councilmanic candidates in the last South Pasadena city election. Out of a total vote of 1796 he secured 1548 votes and 600 more than his nearest competitor for the long term. It is this popularity that makes us bold to state, says the South Pasadena Record, that South
Pasadena will go solidly for Dodge for the office of County Supervisor in the fifth district. That he will win in next week's primary is evident on every hand.

Since his election to the city council, less than five months ago, Mayor Dodge has been instrumental in saving the people approximately $7000

a year and reducing the tax rate on the general fund seven cents, in face of the fact that it was expected by most people that the rate would be raised, or at best remain what it was last year. Yet, with all the saving made for the taxpayers, the efficiency of city departments was in no way impaired.

One feature of the Dodge campaign that has favorably impressed voters all over the fifth district is that it has been clean and free from abuse for his antagonists. He is resting his campaign on his past record
as a business man and a city official and leaving the mud-slinging to the opponents who have no record to show for themselves. He won his place at the head of the city government with clean hands and he will land in the supervisor's office in the same manner.

There was a large attendance and the affair was a pronounced success both from a financial and an entertainment point of view. The proceeds of the entertainment are to be used for the benefit of the Mexican Mission work. Miss Helena Swartz, 341 Belmont street, chairman of the Social department, was ably assisted in her arduous duties by Marie Swartz, Ruth Pierce, Jennie Lacey and other willing workers.

Prettily decorated booths made the hall a scene of beauty. Candy, punch, confetti and sweets of various kinds were sold by a bevy of young girls who charmed everyone with their grace, beauty and selling capacity. Games and contests for young and old made the evening pass merrily.

CRUEL LAUGHTER

A laugh may be a cruel thing. Some anthropologists tell us that laughter began with primitive man as an expression of pleasure at the sight of pain in others. Nor does one find this theory difficult of acceptance when he scans the comic supplements of the newspapers, wherein practically all of their so-called humor is based on physical or mental pain or discomfort. If one questions this statement he need but note the next time he looks at the illustrations on the funny page of any newspaper.

THE GLENDALE QUIT CLUB

Probably no other amusement club in Glendale attracts as much attention as the Glendale Quoit club. The club was organized five years ago and is made up with the best representative citizens of Glendale, being mostly retired farmers who came to Glendale to enjoy this wonderful climate and surroundings in passing the remainder of their lives in a well earned rest. The club has steadily grown from half a dozen of the first organization until it has more than thirty enrolled members in good standing. The club has taken part in all the Quoit tournaments in Southern California and have always ranked very high in the scores.

In the Southern California Tournament, held recently at Compton, the local club was pitted against the strongest clubs in the organization and were successful in bringing home second prize and only lost first prize by a margin of 1 point.

At a recent match game at Fullerton, no provision had been made for tie games and as Long Beach and Glendale tied, as did Pasadena and Pomona, no second prize was awarded, but as Compton beat Fullerton, Compton was awarded the prize of eight gilded shoes.

Many high scores have been made on the local grounds. At present G. L. Head of the local club, holds the State record of 48 ringers in one game. The following is a roster of the present membership:

W. J. Smith, Pres.; Jesse McClelland, Sec.; I. J. Gould, G. L. Head, J. Doyle Porter, Glenn Porter, J. G. Denny, Croy, W. Shoemaker, David Keim, H. W. Longshore, J. E. Pettit, S. E. Blachley, A. W. Jenkins, W. L. Henderson, H. C. Toman, T. J. Hutchison, Lester Robinson, I. G. Weaver, R. V. Stuart, Geo. Cornwall, F. R. Buchanan, M. P. Harrison, C. S. Archer, W. H. Nicles, G. H. Rhodes, Wm. Goodridge, E. J. Elmore, W. A. Burns, E. E. Lang, O. Spencer, H. T. Anderson, Geo. T. Payne.

KNOWN BY WHAT THEY LAUGH AT

It has been observed, says the "New York Evangelist," that the general characters of people can be determined by their natural laughs. The condescending laugh of the supercilious, the superficial laugh of the hypocrite, the repulsive smirk of the cold-blooded and natural villain, the fawning smile of the tricky schemer, "the noisy laugh which shows the vacant brain," and the genial, hearty laugh of the large and true-hearted man, all are tell-tales.

A more certain knowledge of the real character of people may be easily gained by noticing the things at which they laugh. In spite of whatever disguises they may assume, we need make no mistake in determining the real character of those who laugh, or even smile, over the sufferings or sorrows of any living being, animal or human; over the low or obscene jest, the scoffs of the infidel, the perplexities and troubles of the unfortunate, or over any conditions or circumstances that bring pain or discomfort to those who have tried to walk orderly and honorably; or even over the sorrows of those who have not. There need be no difficulty in this matter of placing a person after we have noticed what he laughs at.
